Blake Webster

Blake Webster is the newest addition to the Legasus team of family business consultants. Blake and his wife Leslie, along with their newborn son George, came to Wichita from Southwest Missouri; he was introduced to Legasus through the community psychology and communications PH.D. program at Wichita State University.

Blake has a background in group and family consulting with research interests grounded in systems work and inter-disciplinary approaches to family dynamics. Blake also has a background writing and playing music and he explains “reading and family are my two passions.”
